How do we best extend and curate the web of trust that is the market participants of the fair economy. What are preconditions to be considered "fair", which are the merchants that we know to be fair accordingly and which economic links can we manifest between them.

Wednesday, May 29, 10h-19h @Décentrale:

Glocal Governance Model

In this workshop we will be looking of ways to apply glocal governance models to the needs and circumstances of the FairCoop community. FairCoop's focus isn't governance but the development of a global grassroots fair economy. As it aims to achieve its goal, it however needs to build the corresponding governance structures. We want to see how the models we develop can help in this context and how this practical example can help develop our models.

Thursday, May 30, 10h-19h @Décentrale:

FairCoin and Fairo ecosystem

We aim to review the concept of exchange rates between the "Fairo" purchasing power peg, FairCoin and other currencies. The Fairo is intended to be a reference point for purchasing power value in the emerging fair economy. We are defining an ecosystem of consensus based exchange rates in a web-of-trust, creating dynamics for a Nash Equilibrium for a cooperative, fair economy. We'll discuss and further develop the proposal of using this reference point and aim to agree on a first consensus rate.

May 31 - June 9 @Décentrale:
